WC Update 3-31-21

Yikes! I've Been Advertising the Wrong Tour Dates for July!!

I (Denise Martin) recently had to contact hosts to set straight a mistake in the schedule for July. Please adjust your calendar so that you know the July WhaleCoast guests will be in Anchorage July 7th-8th (NOT 14th-15th). The banquet will happen on July 8th. Apologies for this glitch; I'm also working to get it fixed on the AUUF website. June dates are correct as shown below.

Update of AUUF Hosts in Anchorage for UU Tourists June 12th-16th * July 7th-8th

Hosts with Guest Space Still Needed • Driver Volunteers Also Needed Tour director Dave Frey reports that he will be closing registration for the June tour this week, and the final number of guests for June is currently 30, including the tour director and his assistant. Below is the latest tally of host volunteers as of March 31st. Though it appears that we have almost enough confirmed beds, the complications of suitable households will likely require using at least some of the "Maybe" hosts, and/or driver volunteers to help some of the confirmed ones. Kudos to Jane Gray and Deb Addie, who have offered to help me with some of this organizational work!

JUNE: 10 Confirmed hosts / 29 bed units

6 "Maybe" hosts / 16 bed units

JULY: 7 Confirmed hosts / 21 bed units

9 "Maybe" hosts / 18 bed units

Registration for July will be extended for a couple more weeks, but we are close to being prepared for the current 26 guests including the 2 tour directors.

What we still need:

- 1. Commitments from some "maybe" hosts (within the next couple of weeks). New hosts are still welcome to get on the backup list.
- 3. Vaccinated volunteers who can help do some driving during the Anchorage tour dates. If you have a van, this would be especially useful.
- 4. Help with the 2 banquets (June 13th and July 8).

Thanks again to everyone who has offered to be a host or driver! Please get yourself vaccinated if you haven't, and consider contacting me if you have guest space and think you might help with this major fundraising tour program! Denise Martin: dulcimer.diva@gmail.com. For more information, go to AUUF website - Fundraisers page

Also, if you're intrigued about the tours, go to WhaleCoast AK to view the entire statewide itinerary. To inquire about joining up with the UU tourists coming in July, please contact tour director Dave Frey: dfrey@whalecoastak.org

Staying Connected - Fireside Chat at the AUUF Outdoor Fire Pit and on Zoom!

Next Fireside Chat: Wed. April 7, 6:30-8:00 pm

For ages 18 and up. Bring a log or 2 for the fire if you're able. Happy Spring! Some of us have been enjoying monthly informal conversations over Zoom this winter, organized by AUUF's Connections Team. We want to continue these for the next two months, but since we're hoping some snow is melting and temperatures continue to rise, we are reserving the AUUF fire pit space so that we might actually meet in person at AUUF! Plan to bring your thermos of tea or toddy and join us for a safe-distanced chat on the first Wednesdays (April 7 and May 5). We'll also put up a Zoom link on the AUUF website calendar in case anyone wants to join in remotely. And if mother nature throws us a sudden weather challenge, we have reserved the social room inside the building too. For more information, email connections@anchorageuuf.org

April Half-Portion for Social Action - Citizens' Climate Lobby

This month's recipient of the half portion goes to Citizens' Climate Education (CCE)/Citizens' Climate Lobby (CCL), a volunteer-driven, non-partisan, non-political, non-profit that works to educate citizens on how to advocate effectively for climate legislation with their elected officials. Since its inception in 2008, CCE/CCL has championed bi-partisan solutions to mitigate climate change. Efforts by CCL groups were behind last year's launch of the bipartisan Senate Climate Solutions Caucus of which Senator Murkowski is an active member.

In CCL, we 'bet the ranch on relationships' and maintain a cordial and earnest ongoing dialog with the 3 offices of Alaska's MOC. Because of our reputation for respectful dialog, we regularly meet with over 95% of all the offices on Capitol Hill.

In these polarized times, working in the middle is hard, but at this moment it uniquely positions CCL to move climate from a wedge issue to a bridge issue.

Whether for building relationships with members of Congress, local businesses, media, and more, CCE & CCL provide ongoing specialized training and tools to help maximize local citizen volunteers' skills.

As we make greater efforts to involve under-represented populations, we intend to support 2 or 3 Alaskans to CCL's November national conference & lobby day in DC this year.

If you would like to learn more about CCE & CCL, please contact George Donart (anchorageclimate@gmail.com) or go to CitizensClimateLobby.org

Or Watch on Youtube.

AUUF ANTI-RACISM TEAM CORNER

HELP FIGHT FOR VOTING RIGHTS FOR ALL!

Monday, April 12th and Thursday, April 15th, 7-8 pm
(Zoom info soon on AUUF website calendar.)

UU the Vote and the Anti-Racism Team will be holding an educational and action-oriented event on Monday, April 15th, and/or Thursday, April 18th which will focus on the attempts to enact laws that will result in voter suppression, both in AK and the nation. We will watch a brief (5-minute) video and learn about HR/Senate bill 1 (the "For the People "Act). This session will include EASY ACTION STEPS which we can take to oppose the voter suppression bills and support voting rights law.

Black Lives in Alaska: Journey, Justice, Joy at The Anchorage Museum
On view April 30 — Nov 30, 2021

In April 2021, the museum will open a new exhibition about Black history and culture in Alaska. Informed by conversations with community advisors, including activist and community archivist Cal Williams, and through the research of UAA's Ian Hartman, the exhibition will include photographs and documents from the Anchorage Museum archives that help tell the stories of the lives and experiences of members of Alaska's Black community.

Anti-Racism Team Book Circle: Wednesday, May 12th, 6:30 pm and/or Sunday, May 16th at 6:30 pm. We are offering two sessions to accommodate differing schedules.

The Anti-Racism team will be hosting a discussion of a group read of "So You Want to Talk About Race" by Ijeoma Oluo,

Join fellow AUUF members for a listening circle to share reactions to So You Want to Talk About Race, a short (256-page) book by Ijeoma Oluo who shares her perspectives and experiences as a Black woman in the Pacific Northwest and coaches readers to engage in constructive, equitable dialogue on race and racism. Chapters include "What if I talk about race wrong?", "What is intersectionality and why do I need it?", "But what if I hate Al Sharpton?", "I just got called racist, what do I do now?" and more.

(A book club kit will be checked out from the library with 8 copies available to share, available next Monday, April 5th. If you are interested in reserving a copy, please call Michele Champion at 907-341-9249)

Office of the Alaska Synod offering The Alaska Gatekeeper Training

Friday, April 23, 2021 1:30 to 4:30 PM

The Alaska Gatekeeper Training uses the QPR method as its core training. QPR stands for Question, Persuade and Refer, an emergency mental health intervention for suicidal persons created by Dr. Paul Quinnett. QPR is a basic education program that teaches everyday community members to recognize suicide risk and how to get a person at risk the help they need. It is also an action plan that can result in lives saved.

See the event flyer.

Farewell to Myths, Hello to Women Heroes and Genetics by Marie Lundstrom

In this age of focus on the individual, Joseph Campbell says at the end of The Hero With A Thousand Faces, " ... it is not society that is to guide and save the creative hero, but precisely the reverse." One who would be a hero in modern society takes on the burden, the ordeal, alone without cohesive community support. It's tough to be a hero, but we need them more than ever for the stability and value of our communities.

In our next book, The Code Breaker by Walter Isaacson, we'll be learning about gene editing and the device/program/process/tool called CRISPR. In particular, we'll become acquainted with Jennifer Doudna, one of the chief developers/discoverers of the genetic scissors. She and Emmanuelle Charpentier were awarded the Nobel Prize in Chemistry in 2020 for their work in developing CRISPR. Now we'll have some woman heroes to emulate and cherish.

For our April 9 session, read through chapter 5, "The Human Genome," or up to page 43 in a print copy of The Code Breaker. It is available at Costco, among other sources. Join us Friday on Zoom—go to the AUUF website, click on the Calendar for the link.

Joy & Sorrows From Sunday Worship April 4

From Ruth Greenwood: Concern about rising COVID rates, in the US and elsewhere.

About equity of vaccine distribution. Remember my mother, who taught me so much about love by example. And SO GLAD that the snow is finally melting!!

From Sid McCausland: When a Sequoia dies a fairy ring of young trees spring up and became my background. Grateful for all that is. And for each of you.

From SilverHjellen: My joy today is my first great-grandchild, Chris, turning 10 today.

WhaleCoast Update 4-9-21

June 12th-16th * July 7th-8th

Hosts with Guest Space Still Needed • Driver Volunteers Also Needed

Date fix: In case you haven't checked in lately about WhaleCoast, the correct dates for the second tour are July 7th-8th (NOT 14th-15th as previously advertised). Please adjust your calendars accordingly! Below is the latest tally of host volunteers as of April 8th.

JUNE: 10 Confirmed hosts / 28 bed units

6 "Maybe" hosts / 16 bed units

Tour director Dave Frey closed registration for the June tour this week, and the final number of guests for June is currently 31, including himself and his assistant. At least 3 pairs of guests, including a family of 4, would like separate beds in the same household. This means we will certainly need more confirmed hosts, as there are a limited number of 2-bed households among those committed. Driving help will also be crucial when 4 or more guests cannot fit into a hosts' vehicle. If we don't get commitments to accommodate, some of our potential earnings will go instead to a Motel 6.

JULY: 10 Confirmed hosts / 26 bed units 9 "Maybe" hosts / 16 bed units

Registration for July will be closed soon, but we are close to being prepared for the current 26 guests including the 2 tour directors. 4 guests have paid extra for a private bedroom. The payment for each of these guests will be $127.50/night, which would be extra profit for AUUF! And at least 2 other guests have requested separate bedrooms. Backups will likely be needed.

What we still need:

- 1. Commitments from some "maybe" hosts (within the next couple of weeks). New hosts are still needed to put on the backup list, especially any hosts who can offer more than 1 bed!
- 3. Vaccinated volunteers who can help do some driving during the Anchorage tour dates. If you have a van, this would be especially useful.
- 4. Help with the 2 banquets (June 13th and July 8). Thanks again to everyone who has offered to be a host or driver! Please get yourself vaccinated if you haven't, and consider contacting me if you have guest space and think you might help with this major fundraising tour program! Denise Martin: dulcimer.diva@gmail.com. Join us for a faith-grounded discussion and call to action for democracy on Wednesday, April 14, 3-4:30 AK time. Today we are witnessing a dangerous swelling in anti-democratic measures across the country. Nearly every state in the nation faces voter suppression bills, states and cities are criminalizing protest, and our immigration and criminal legal systems continue to keep us from the promise of a truly democratic nation. Right now, across the country, the people are rising up to demand democracy, organize their communities and leverage their collective power to move lawmakers and corporations to make change.

Beware of COVID-19 Vaccine Scams

Dear Community,

Nationwide, there have been an increasing number of reports that individuals are being contacted via email and/or text message after receiving the COVID-19 vaccine and asked to participate in a fraudulent post-vaccine survey with the promise of a prize or cash at the conclusion of the survey. The FBI and our partners just released the attached infographic explaining this scam, along with indicators/tips to avoid being victimized.

Genetics is Big, Deep, Exciting, and Now! by Marie Lundstrom

We are definitely in today's world in The Code Breaker. Walter Isaacson gives a solid background as context for Jennifer Doudna's work with CRISPR, which means getting into DNA and Watson, Crick, Franklin, and Watkins, plus other luminaries. Then onward into RNA and what that means for us right now with vaccines based on mRNA. The coronavirus is with us whether we want it to be or not.

Women in science is an important underlying theme in the telling of Doudna's story. Sexism is an ongoing obstacle, which Rosalind Franklin, Doudna, and others have had to hurdle in order to be effective, sometimes making it and sometimes not.

But mostly we are enjoying becoming drenched in science, in genetics, in teamwork, in what can make us ultimately healthier and safer. Join us Friday at noon on Zoom—go to the AUUF website, click on the calendar for the link.

Democracy Today! A Faith Call for Justice & Democracy (sponsored by National UU the Vote) COMMUNITY EVENT

Wednesday, April 14, 2021 3:00 PM - 4:30 PM AK time Click here to register.

Join us for a faith-grounded discussion and call to action for democracy on Wednesday, April 14, 7-8:30 pm ET/6-7:30pm CT/5-6:30pm MT/4-5:30pm PT. Today we are witnessing a dangerous swelling in anti-democratic measures across the country. Nearly every state in the nation faces voter suppression bills, states and cities are criminalizing protest, and our immigration and criminal legal systems continue to keep us from the promise of a truly democratic nation. Right now, across the country, the people are rising up to demand democracy, organize their communities and leverage their collective power to move lawmakers and corporations to make change.

Group Book Read - May 12 and 16th Anti-Racism Book Circle: So You Want to Talk About Race, by Ijeoma Oluo Wednesday, May 12th, 6:30pm and/or Sunday, May 16th at 6:30pm

Michele Champion has 6 more copies of this book checked out from the library. Please call or email her to let her know you are interested in borrowing one . akmichelechamp@yahoo.com 907-341-9249

Join fellow AUUF members for a listening circle to share reactions to So You Want to Talk About Race, a short (256-page) book by Ijeoma Oluo who shares her perspectives and experiences as a Black woman in the Pacific Northwest and coaches readers to engage in constructive, equitable dialogue on race and racism. Chapters include "What if I talk about race wrong?", "What is intersectionality and why do I need it?", "But what if I hate Al Sharpton?", "I Just got called racist, what do I do now?" and more.

We are offering two sessions to accommodate differing schedules.

DOCUMENTING AND SHARING ANCHORAGE'S DIVERSE COMMUNITIES Anchorage Museum:

In April 2021, the museum will open a new exhibition about Black history and culture in Alaska. Informed by conversations with community advisors, including activist and community archivist Cal Williams, and through the research of UAA's Ian Hartman, the exhibition will include photographs and documents from the Anchorage Museum archives that help tell the stories of the lives and experiences of members of Alaska's Black community.

The 15 Alaskans included in The HistoryMakers include African Americans who still are living, leading and shaping the stories of their community. Working with The HistoryMakers, local historian Cal Williams, and associate professor of history at University of Alaska Anchorage Ian Hartman, the museum is collecting materials like photographs and documents from Alaska's HistoryMakers for the museum's archives. These photographs, awards, announcements and other documents will help tell the personal stories of HistoryMakers interviewees. The project has received funding support from the Anchorage Chapter of the NAACP.

General Assembly

UU's from across the Nation and beyond will gather virtually for our annual General Assembly June 23th-27th. The sessions will include UUA business, exploration of the theological underpinnings of our faith, and opportunities to lean fully into our mission and principles.

Last year, GA had more than 4,900 registered attendees participate from remote locations around the world. While we've had to give up our face-to-face interactions and hugs, we have retained our dedication to community and made our experience more accessible and environmentally sustainable. Those of us from AUUF who attended last year found it to be a rich, rewarding, and educational experience.

Hosts with Guest Space Still Needed • Driver Volunteers Also Needed

What we still need:

1. Commitments from some "maybe" hosts (within the next couple of weeks). New hosts are still needed to put on the backup list, especially any hosts who can offer more than 1 hed!

- 3. Vaccinated volunteers who can help do some driving during the Anchorage tour dates. If you have a van, this would be especially useful.
- 4. Help with the 2 banquets (June 13th and July 8). Thanks again to everyone who has offered to be a host or driver! Please get yourself vaccinated if you haven't, and consider contacting me if you have guest space and think you might help with this major fundraising tour program!

April Half-Portion for Social Action Citizens' Climate Lobby

This month's recipient of the half portion goes to Citizens' Climate Education (CCE)/Citizens' Climate Lobby (CCL), a volunteer-driven, non-partisan, non-political, non-profit that works to educate citizens on how to advocate effectively for climate legislation with their elected officials. Since its inception in 2008, CCE/CCL has championed bi-partisan solutions to mitigate climate change. Efforts by CCL groups were behind last year's launch of the bipartisan Senate Climate Solutions Caucus of which Senator Murkowski is an active member.

Calling all painters!

We are in the process of organizing one or more volunteer workdays to paint the sanctuary. Much of the required painting is directly associated with our sanctuary remodel project. While we have the paint cans open, we would like to completely repaint the sanctuary, including all walls and window trim.

We would like to complete the painting over the next 10 - 14 days in order to keep the rest of the construction on schedule. The specific dates have yet to be determined and will be set based on the availability of interested volunteers. If you are interested and available, please contact Don Antrobus directly via email at $\frac{dtantro@gci.net}{dtantro@gci.net}$ or by phone at (907) 980-2077. EARTH DAY IS SOCIAL JUSTICE DAY

Dennis Arashiro

"Understanding the links between social justice and environmental sustainability must be at the heart of a new social settlement."

- Anna Coote

Climate change poses a global threat to social justice. The chasm between the rich and the poor means different outcomes for both. When faced with drought, floods, hurricanes and other climate change disasters, the rich have the means to escape to other nations who welcome their investment dollars--while the poor face closed borders. When faced with acidifying oceans, the rich can profit off sheltered fish farms--while the poor can no longer live off the seas. When faced with dangerous heat waves, the rich pay a higher price for air conditioning--while the poor pay a higher price in death by heatstroke.

So what can stand in the way of a common focus on meeting the challenge of climate change? The very chasm between rich and poor! When faced with future global catastrophe, we can see the rich turn away to focus their concern on their present portfolios--while the poor turn away to focus their concern on their immediate survival. Without greater equality to bridge social division, there can be no common focus. Without common focus, there can be no collective action. Without collective action, there can be no success in achieving environmental sustainability. We must end poverty to end ecological disaster. We must fight for social justice to fight for our planet.

Let's realize that vision on Earth Day.

A message from the Pacific Northwest District UU Board.

Later this week you and other leaders in the Pacific Northwest will receive an invitation to our District's upcoming Annual Meeting. I'm writing to you now, to let you know about some important news that will be included in that invitation.

At our annual meeting on May 16, 2021, the Pacific Northwest District Board will advise our member congregations to dissolve the district, with the final vote to be taken at a Regional Assembly in November.

Over the past several years, current and past members of the PNWD Board have been in a careful and considered discernment process about how to engage with the structural shift across our association from districts to regions. In every other part of the country, districts have joined together to become:

- The Southern Region
- Central East Region
- Mid-America Region
- New England Region

The congregations in those areas are now served by regional UUA staff and district budgets have become part of the budget of the larger association. After much discussion with the boards of the other three districts in the West, we have come to view Regionalization as inevitable and see this as the moment for our next step.

At our Annual Meeting on May 16:

- · We will propose Bylaw changes that will make the dissolution of the District possible
- We will celebrate the incredible leadership and stories of resilience in the PNW, and
- We will share more about the process of Regionalization.

In the coming months, we will host online conversations with anyone who wants more information, listening deeply to questions and concerns that arise.

We also encourage folks to participate in the Love Right Through Forums (Click here.), hosted by our Regional Staff to explore the impact of Regionalization across our four districts.

In November, we will gather again as a District, at which point members will vote to dissolve the PNW District. Thank you for the leadership you have provided UUs in our district during this difficult year. We hope you and your constituents will join us for a celebratory annual meeting on May 16. More information about registration, delegates, and the agenda will be forthcoming in the regional newsletter and on our website.

Looking forward to seeing you at the annual meeting! Warmly, Joseph Bednarik

Women CAN Do Science! By Marie Lundstrom

One of the great things about reading The Code Breaker is all the related material—"Women in Science," Jennifer Doudna's Nobel lecture, TED talk by Doudna, TED talk by James Watson, interviews, articles. There's a lot of stuff out there, and it's current! Sharing what we find adds spice to our reading.

We talked a lot about women in science now and in the past—I love Silver Hjellen's story about nailing the bozo who came into her lab asking about the "cheesecake in here?" And the problems of acceptance, not only on scientific teams, but in the scientific work women do. The whole notion that if women do it, it can't be as important or as well done as what men would do. I've found that old mindset in myself, a holdover from young years when men were deferred to as "the bosses." I continually check my own attitudes to make sure that old mindset is not operating.

I cheer Doudna's aggressiveness as well as her support of self-starters and her efforts to have a congenial, collegial lab team. This reading is such good fun! For next week, April 23, read Part 3 Gene Editing, through ch 31 Patents—for print books, that's through page 241. To join Freethinkers on Zoom Friday at noon, go to the AUUF website, click on the Calendar, and the link will come up.

Catch the Rising Tide ... of charitable deductions! Charitable Giving in 2020

How does it go again? The 2020 CARES Act added an option for up to $300 in deductions from your income for a charitable gift of cash, even if you don't itemize your deductions. FYI that's $300 per tax return, not per taxpayer, if you file jointly. The IRS has a website where you can search for qualifying organizations (we checked to make sure AUUF is a "yes" and it is!). Find this and other tips here: https://www.irs.gov/newsroom/how-the-cares-act-changes-deducting-charitable-contributions

Tax-wise, there are other ways to benefit from your annual pledge to AUUF, even if your deductions don't reach the standard deduction. While a tax professional is your best resource, some common examples are:

- 1) Taxpayers age 70 $\frac{1}{2}$ or older can make a qualified charitable distribution from their IRA up to 100,000 directly to an eligible charity.
- 2) Rather than cash, give stocks or bonds that you have held for over a year. When stocks are up, this is most certainly a better financial deal for you than giving cash, whether you itemize your deductions or not.
- 3) Another strategy is to combine multi-year deductions into one year. Many taxpayers won't qualify for the necessary deductions to surpass the 2020 standard deduction threshold ($12,400 for individuals, $24,800 for joint filers). However, you can still receive a tax benefit by "bunching" multiple years' worth of charitable giving in one calendar year to surpass the itemization threshold. In off-years, you take the standard deduction.

These strategies could save you thousands of dollars, not to mention supporting the charitable organizations that mean something to you. We hope AUUF is one of those!

ANCHORAGE DATES: JUNE 12-16 (Banquet 13th) JULY 7-8 (Banquet 8th)

WhaleCoast Update

We'll likely be calling for some driving help once the matches are finalized. Some reminders about the June tour: arrival times vary among all the guests (and we're still missing some of that information). But the general idea is that most hosts will contact and arrange to pick up their guests on Saturday, June 12th. A few guests arrive a day or 2 early, and if hosts are willing to house them, AUUF will earn extra for those nights (otherwise, it's Motel 6). After 2 nights in Anchorage with hosts, the guests take a train to Seward and come back to Anchorage on the 16th for a 3rd (and final) night's stay with hosts. Tentative tour schedule and driving details are on our website:

Fund-raisers

July schedule is shaping up, and while we don't have a guest roster yet, word has it that private bedrooms are in demand, so we'll be calling on anyone with more than one bedroom to offer, including folks who also hosted in June. Unlike the June tour, guests arrive in Anchorage all at once at the train depot on a Wednesday night and stay with hosts for only 2 nights.

What we still need:

- 1. Vaccinated volunteer hosts, especially any who can offer more than 1 bedroom!
- 2. Vaccinated volunteers who can help do some driving during the Anchorage tour dates. If you have a van, this would be especially useful.
- 3. Help with the banquets (June 13th and July 8).

Thanks again to everyone volunteering! If you want to help out, email Denise Martin: dulcimer.diva@gmail.com. If you're intrigued about the tours, go to WhaleCoast AK to view the entire statewide itinerary. To inquire about joining up with the UU tourists coming in July, please email tour director Dave Frey: dfrey@whalecoastak.org

Joy & Sorrows

From Sunday, April 18, 2021

From Ruth Greenwood: Such joy to be able to get together with 2 other fully vaccinated friends and share a meal and watch a movie together. After more than a year of living alone and having no one in my bubble. And HUGS!

From David & Irene: Sorrow for my dad whom I just visited in Arizona for the last few days who is suffering from dementia. So sad to see someone decline like this, my dad, and someone who was once the leading expert on radiation physics in the country and participated in the nuclear bomb tests in the Pacific in the 1950s.

General Assembly

UU's from across the nation and beyond will gather virtually for our annual General Assembly June 23th-27th. The sessions will include UUA business, exploration of the theological underpinnings of our faith, and opportunities to lean fully into our mission and principles.

Last year, GA had more than 4,900 registered attendees participate from remote locations around the world. While we've had to give up our face-to-face interactions and hugs, we have retained our dedication to the community and made our experience more accessible and environmentally sustainable. Those of us from AUUF who attended last year found it to be a rich, rewarding, and educational experience.

Calling all painters! - Help still needed!

We are in the process of organizing one or more volunteer workdays to paint the sanctuary. Much of the required painting is directly associated with our sanctuary remodel project. While we have the paint cans open, we would like to completely repaint the sanctuary, including all walls and window trim.

We would like to complete the painting over the next 10-14 days in order to keep the rest of the construction on schedule. The specific dates have yet to be determined and will be set based on the availability of interested volunteers. If you are interested and available, please contact Don Antrobus directly via email at dtantro@gci.net or by phone at (907) 980-2077. Come see the progress that has been made on the sanctuary remodel project and help us move it to completion!

From Gardening to Genetics to Ethics—We Cover Ground!

By Marie Lundstrom

What a fascinating range of topics we touch in our discussions! Gardening—watch the Netflix documentary Kiss the Ground which "reveals that, by regenerating the world's soils, we can completely and rapidly stabilize Earth's climate, restore lost ecosystems and create abundant food supplies." Encouraging, especially since I need to fill my new garden box with good soil to raise carrots, beets, spinach, and sunflowers. Last Sunday's Forum on gardening got me inspired to grow great food!

DIY Genetics—get your CRISPR home kit today! DIY Al—build your own Artificial Intelligence at home with your computer. Population—we have 7.8 billion people on the planet, with 9.8 bn projected by 2050 and 11.2 bn projected by 2100. Can Earth survive all those people? Should we try to cure genetic diseases and extend lives?

Ethics—where do we stop in editing the human genome? Judith Anderegg suggests reading Altered Inheritance: CRISPR and the Ethics of Human Genome Editing (c2019) by Françoise Baylis. Moral and ethical questions abound in genetic manipulation. And we will be reading about those very biting issues in the coming weeks in Walter Isaacson's The Code Breaker. For next week, read Parts 4, 5, and 6, through chapter 39 "Acceptance." For a print copy, that's through page 332.

President's Message AUUF is our tiny democracy.

Participation and Voting are both our obligation and our privilege. We have two big jobs in May – one for AUUF and one for our city. --a message from Sid McCausland, Board President

Founded by members, sustained by members, governed by members — AUUF meets the modern definition of a democracy: "control of an organization by the majority of its members, typically through elected representatives."

You supply the energy and the vision powering AUUF's progress toward the fulfillment of your aspirations.

We need your energy on May 2nd for our Annual Business Meeting where you will vote to Approve our budget for next fiscal year (which begins July 1st), as well as Elect two members to our Board of Directors and three members to our Endowment Committee. In addition we will Discuss plans for how you want us to proceed as we re-open during these COVID times.

Our Bylaws §4.4 reserves specific major decisions for our Members:

- "(a) The membership shall govern the Fellowship in major decisions affecting the congregation, including electing the governing board, passing the annual budget, calling or dismissing settled ministers, amending the Endowment Fund Plan of Operation, purchasing or selling real estate, borrowing money, and amending the bylaws.
- (b) Membership action shall be expressed by majority vote at a membership meeting at which a quorum is present...
- (c) Management shall be exercised through the board of directors."

Your Vote Counts – It is a privilege and an obligation worth defending. So this May, cast your votes in both

- · AUUF's Annual Business Meeting and
- Anchorage's Mayoral run-off election.

WhaleCoast Update 4-29-21

I really appreciate everyone who has offered to house guests for one or both tours this summer. Due to requests for separate beds in the same household, homes without stairs, or without pets, our guests are spread pretty thin for the June tour. As a result, some of the double beds are being assigned, single guests.

Therefore, a few more backup hosts can ensure we place everyone without worries. Tentative tour schedule and driving details are on our website: Fund-raisers

What we still need for the June 12-16 tour:

- 1. More volunteer hosts, especially any who can offer 2 separate beds with at least one on the ground floor. Homes without pets, or without stairs are also very helpful.
- 2. Volunteers who can help do some driving during the Anchorage tour dates. If you have a van, this would be especially useful.

The July 7-8 roster is showing fewer stair and pet issues, so we are looking pretty good for bed placements, as long about half of our 6 "maybe" hosts come through with commitments.

Help will also be needed for the banquets (June 13th and July 8).

Reminder: All volunteers for the tours need to be fully vaccinated for Covid in advance of coming into contact with guests (who will also be fully vaccinated). This means 2 weeks in advance of the start of dates. Free vaccines are readily available in Anchorage, so we don't expect this to be a problem.

Thanks again to everyone volunteering! If you want to help out, email me (Denise Martin): dulcimer.diva@gmail.com. If you're intrigued about the tours, go to WhaleCoast AK to view the entire statewide itinerary.
